

LET'S EXPLORE THE MYTH

Myths are portals into the past and into other contemporary cultures. When we study them, we can gain important sets of information, such as historical events and figures. We can learn about a culture's way of life, including their beliefs and practices.

Think carefully about the myth, what do you think it is about? Give three reasons for your answer.

Think carefully about the myth, what do you think it is about? Give three reasons for your answer.

What does the myth tell us about the culture it belongs to? For example what does the story tell us about where people live, their beliefs and practices? What is their habitat like? What kinds of animals live in their surroundings?

MY VERSION OF THE MYTH

Using the myth as inspiration, write a short creative story. You may like to draw and include your own illustrations.

Don't forget to plan your story first. Also make sure that you read over your story and check your spelling and punctuation before your finish.
